sponsorship, to help celebrate the centennial of Guadalajara's neo-classic Degollado Theater. The excellence of the internationally known group, and their director, Aaron Sten, commanded rave reviews from Guadalajara's music critics.

THE ENTIRE summer school class spent a long weekend at the Pacific coast town of Melaque. "It consists of one large resort hotel and ten grass-roofed huts," said Ralph. "I took along my brother's surfboard, but—just our luck—the surf wasn't up, and we had to settle for body-surfing."

The group also visited Lake Chapala and took boats to Scorpion Island (named for its shape, not its inhabitants!) for a picnic lunch and then toured the lake villages of Ajijic and Jocotepec on the way back to Guadalajara.

Classes ended Friday and many of the students will spend the weekend in Mexico City visiting the spectacular new National Museum, the floating gardens of Xochimilco, and the pyramids of Tenayuca before boarding their planes for home.

Southwest Savings and Loan Association will open a new branch in South Pasadena, following approval of the new branch by the State Savings and Loan Commissioner.

Opening of the South Pasadena branch will bring to four the number of offices now operated by the savings firm, Fred E. Edwards, president and chairman of the board, said. Southwest Savings acquired control of Corona Savings and Loan Association last July 1, increasing total assets to $170 million.

Other offices are located in Torrance and Inglewood. Edwards founded the firm in 1945, opening in a small store a block from the present Inglewood office.
